The media have recently reported details of an annual charity fundraising event run by the Presidents Club. This is a men-only party for rich donors, which included women being hired to be hostesses for the night, some of whom report being sexually harassed by the guests.

The Presidents Club has said it will shut down and not hold any further events, but many charities have already received donations from them. What do you think the charities should do?

They should give the donations back	20	18	21	16	20	21	19	22	19	24	18	17	19	22	23	18	20	23	20
